Dear Parents/Carers,

Internet Safety

I have been made aware about a new craze involving the LOL dolls, Fortnite, Surprise Egg unveiling as well as Peppa Pig youtube videos (but this is not an exhaustive list). Children who have been using this site have been subjected to pop ups relating to a fictitious character called MOMO. This character randomly pops up and asks the children to complete tasks which quickly escalate to tasks involving harming themselves or others.

This is mostly happening at night when adults are asleep and children are encouraged to message or text MoMo.

Please be mindful of this and monitor your children's use of the internet and youtube.

This is very disturbing and as always my advice remains, do not allow your children to use any social media site without proper supervision, certainly never alone.

Yours sincerely
